FFA INITIATES GREENHANDS

The Appomattox F. F. A. initiated 29 Greenhands into the club Wed., Oct. 29. The ceremony was held in the agriculture building at the high school. The boys that had met the Greenhand requirements were: Jack Burks, Joel Carnefix, Jack Coggins, Nelson Fields, Robert Garrett, Lester Goin, Marvin House, Samuel Inge, Harry Mann, Kelly O'Brien, James Phelps, Richards Powell, Gerald Price, David Repass, John Roach, Ralph Totty, James Webb, Junie Weeks, Jr., Donald Zentner, Franklin Bryant, Johnny Gallier, Richard Harris, Byron Lovell, Mickey Martin, Tom Maxwell, Jack Mayberry, Barry McKenna, Winifred Nash and Austin Pankey.

They were awarded the bronze pin of a Greenhand by the club advisor. Greenhand requirements are enrollment as a freshman in high school, enrollment in a class of vocational agriculture and establishment in and provision for advancement of individual farming programs.

The Greenhands were required to wear old work clothes the day of the initiation. The costume consisted of old over-alls, an old hat, old work shoes, an old straw hat, a bandana handkerchief, and a greenhand pinned over the heart.

The initiation ceremony began with talks and advice to the Greenhands by the club officers. The Greenhands were then escorted to the school shop. The veteran members played several games and pranks upon the Greenhands to complete the initiation.

Refreshments were served to all present. Winifred Nash was presented a hand drill by Jack Tibbs for being the best dressed Greenhand.

Quick Tricks For Decorating

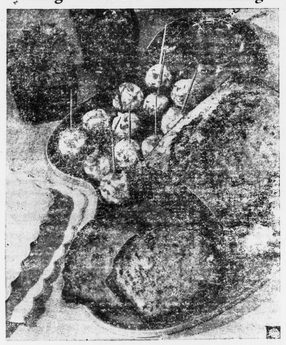
How would you like to be able to change your kitchen decor in a matter of minutes?

This is the time of year when you are likely to get the urge to brighten up your home after the casual outdoor living of summer, but the problems of major redecoration often seem too great to face. Fortunately, there is a product available that eliminates all the uncertainty and fuss of a big redecorating job and yet produces an attractive new look. It is a self-adhesive material made of Velon which sticks to any surface after the easy-to-remove paper backing is peeled off. It is waterproof and washable, which makes it particularly good for counter tops, or as spatter protection behind the range or sink.

Why not be your own decorator using Stix to create an individual decorative scheme tailored just for you? There are plenty of designs and colors available to give your talents full scope. There are patterns suitable for any room in the house, for walls, waste baskets, lamps, and table tops. Because of the practical qualities of the material, it is particularly appropriate in the kitchen. You can even use small leftover pieces to coordinate your color scheme by covering flower pots, canisters, and the like. The imaginative homemaker can give her decorating whims a free rein to devise dozens of other uses.

Another advantage is that you can experiment for the best effect, with no risk of not being pleased with the result, as the material can be removed and re-applied with no damage to the original surface.

Orange Bread For Fall Entertaining



The fall season is a good reason to be baking warm, fragrant fruit breads. You can build a PTA meeting, bridge club luncheon or the family's TV snack around this new blend.

Fresh, sunny California orange is combined with cranberries, nuts and just the right amount of nutmeg to make a bread that has everything . . . flavor, texture and looks.

Serve this golden west specialty with butter and orange marmalade or cream cheese balls that have been rolled in grated orange peel. Quite a treat!

Golden West Orange Bread

1 medium orange, cut up
1 cup fresh cranberries
½ cup brown sugar
2 eggs
½ cup oil
⅔ cup brown sugar
2 cups sifted flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
¼ teaspoon soda
¼ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon nutmeg
¼ cup milk
½ cup walnuts, chopped

Put cut up orange and cranberries through food chopper. Combine with ½ cup brown sugar. Set aside. Beat eggs until light and fluffy. Add oil gradually beating constantly. Add sugar slowly and continue beating until mixture is thick. Sift dry ingredients together and add alternately with orange mixture and milk. Fold in nuts. Pour into greased 9x5x3-inch loaf pan. Bake in moderate oven (350°) for 1 hour. Cool thoroughly before slicing.
